6 KNOWN DEAD AS BLIZZARD PILES SNOW IN 30-FOOT DRIFTS

North Central States In Icy Grip Of Winter While Gale Rips Through Winter Wheat Fields In Dust Storms Over Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas; South Fears Frosts

By UNITED PRESS

A driving blizzard, sweeping over the North Central states from the Arctic regions, extended its force eastward and westward today and sheathed half the nation in crippling ice and snow.

Mishaps caused by floods in the middlewest and near zero temperatures and drifts throughout the Great Lakes region led to at least six deaths in three states.

The blizzard, centered across the upper Michigan peninsula, spent its fury westward into Wisconsin and Iowa.

Winds reaching a velocity of 50 miles an hour piled 30-food drifts across the highways in Michigan and isolated hundreds of families.

Additional suffering was caused by freezing flood waters in Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa. In the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles and western Kansas, raging dust storms uprooted winter wheat fields. Through the south, a frost and high winds threatened damage to orchards and crops.

Winds endangered shipping on the Atantic. Mackay radio reported a distress call from the British freighter Pencarrow in the Atlantic about 60 miles off Hillifax, Nova Scotia.

Although the cold brought new hardships to families forced to flee lowland homes in the tri-state flood area, it ended temporarily the danger of more serious overflows.

Fifty children were marooned by snowdrifts in a high school five miles from Ironwood, Mich., Near Marquette other children were reported taking refuge in a farmhouse after their school bus was trapped by rising snows.

U. S. forecaster C. A. Donnel predicted a "severe" cold wave for the entire middlewest. The storm was centered over northern Lake Huron and was moving slowly. He forecast continued snowstorms in all northern states from the Mississippi to the Atlantic seaboard.

At Houghton, Mich., a truck driver was asphyxiated in the cab of his machine while clearing a path for a doctor.

Highway crews rescued more than 100 motorists stranded in zero temperatures and hundreds of others were believed still awaiting rescue or to have taken refuge in farmhouses.

A seven-year-old girl died in a blizzard near Clark, S. D., when she left her home to summon aid for her parents fighting a blaze in the home. Two died in automobile and train accidents in Indiana and a six-year-old boy was drowned in the Illinois flood. A crew member of a tug was believed drowned when the boat smashed into a railroad bridge and foundered near La Salle, Ill. Police dragged the swollen waters of Indian Creek, near Kewanee, Ili., for the body of Ralph Hartness, 20, whose truck was found submerged.

Two hundred families in the Camden, Ark., area, forced to flee the Ouachita river flood, still were unable to return to their homes.

The Arkansas floods were not expected to cause extensive damage although the St. Francis River still was rising and a flood crest of 41 feet was forecast by Friday.

Fruit growers feared freezing temperatures would damage apple, peach and berry crops in Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee. High winds were expected to nullify a frost threat in the Florida citrus belt.

Representative temperatures: Devils Lake, N. D. -10; Iowa City, Ia., -6; Minneapolis, -2; Williston, N. D., O; Chicago, 12; Ft. Myers, Fla., 66; Los Angeles, 76; Bismarck, N. D., -6.

NIAGARA ICE FLOE WRECKS BRIDGE

"Worst Jam In History" Tears Away Structure, Favorite Point Of View For Tourists

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., (UP)—The Falls View bridge, spanning the Niagara River 1000 feet below the mighty cataracts, began breaking up today under the pressure of the worst ice jam in history.

The ice jam carried the structure slowly downstream. The bridge had been closed to traffic earlier when it began to buckle in the center.

Authorities said the bridge, one of the first to link the United States and Canada, would be a total loss by the time the ice jam broke up. The bridge afforded tourists their best view of the falls.

The ice completely enveloped the Canadian side and threatened to carry hydro electric power plant on the it away. Employes escaped before the ice shut off all entrances.

At 11 a. m. authorities estimated that the ice jam had risen 20 feet in three hours. It was still rising.

VALENTINE PARTY FOR LIONS

"Sunshine Committee" Named; Aviation Instructor Guest Speaker For Luncheon

One of the most active meetings of the Placerville Den of Lions in the current year was held Tuesday noon at Hotel Raffles when the den launched plans for a Valentine Party on February 15.

In addition to these plans, the club named a "Sunshine Committee" consisting of Harold Morehouse, B. E. Larson and Jack Rhodes, who will devote their attention to members of the club who may become ill from time to time and announced that the meeting of February 22. Washington's Birthday, will be held on February 23, in view of Tuesday being a holiday.

On the Valentine party committee are R. G. Strum, chairman, with E. E. Van Harlingen, D. Prouty and F. F. Moran.

Guest speaker of the meeting was H. F. Lusk, aeronautics instructor at Sacramento Junior College, who was the guest of Dr. D. W. Babcock.

Mr. Lusk gave an absorbing discussion of the importance of aviation in peace-time and in war and stated it as his opinion that in any wars of the future, the principal force of military aviation will be directed against destroying the military sources of supply, disrupting transportation and manufactures and weakening the morale of non-combatant nationals.

He pointed out that, as a piece of military strategy as far as offensive aviation is concerned, the accomplishments of these purposes would make a defensive army virtually powerless to withstand attack.

Mr. Lusk was of the opinion that as a matter of military preparedness, the building of airplanes is much more to be favored than the construction of battleships, pointing out that armies can only fight armies, warships can only fight warships, but airplanes are capable of use in almost every field of war.

A time limit cut short Mr. Lusk's talk and it was indicated he may continue his remark before the club at some future time.

COUGARS TOP HOOP LEAGUE

Twenty-Thirtians Dumped By Red & White Stores Five In Fast Game

STANDINGS OF CLUBS

	W	L	Pct.
High School	3	0	1.000
20-30 Club	2	1	.667
Red & White	2	1	.667
Native Sons	1	2	.333
American Legion	1	2	.333
Mosquito CCC	0	3	.000

Coach Brown's high school Congars emerged in undisputed leadership at the end of the third round in the county basketball league schedule on Tuesdan night by virtue of a 27-26 win over the American Legion quint, while the Red & White stores five upset the 20-30 quintet.

It was the third successive win for the Cougars and the first defeat for the Twenty-Thirtians, who were tied with the high school outfit for top honors.

The Native Sons hung up a 15 to 13 win over the Mosquito CCC camp team and the boys from over the hill are thus undisputed rulers of the cellar.

All three games were close, as the scores indicate, but finale of the evening, in which the Twenty-Thirtians lost to the Red & Whites by a margin of six points, was the thriller, with the grocery lads coming from behind to take the measure of the club men.

Next Tuesday night's games pit the Twenty-Thirtians against Mosquito at 7 o'clock, the Red & Whites against the American Legion at 8 o'clock for a real battle; and the Native Sons against the Cougars—and don't be surprised.

Young Peoples' Day Sunday

Special Services Planned At Federated Church For Morning And Evening

Young Peoples Day will be observed in the El Dorado County Federated Church Sunday, January 30, at both the morning and evening services. Young Peoples Day is a special occasion when the church recognizes young people, acknowledges her responsibility for their nurture in Christian Faith, and her interests in their spiritual welfare. It is a day when, in a special way, the cause of youth is presented for the prayers, service, and offerings of the Church, and when a special appeal is made to Youth to enlist in the cause of Christ and His Church.

At the morning service the theme will be: "The Way to Follow Christ." All the youth of the church, Sunday School classes, Young Peoples societies and other youth organizations of the church are being urged to be present. Parents, teachers and leaders of youth are also especially urged to attend this service.

At the evening service the young people themselves will conduct the service of which the general theme will be: "If I Follow Christ." There will be two short addresses by young people on the theme: "If I Follow Him in My Personal Living and My Home," and "If I Follow Him in My Church and My Community." There will be special music and other parts of the program in which the young people will lead.

It is hoped that in these two services young people will be inspired to want to become fololwers of Christ and will be helped to know what is involved in carrying out this desire. It is also hoped that adults may be inspired with a desire to help young people in this purpose.

6 NAMES REMAIN ON "WANTED" ROLL

Chief Of G-Men Reveals List Of Suspected Desperadoes Sought By U. S. Agents

By FRANK McNAUGHTON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (UP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation calling the roll of "public enemies," found that only six men who are classed as major desperadoes are still at large.

Leading the six are Louis Buchalter, 40, and Jacob Shapiro, 41, named by Hoover as the head of various New York "rackets." The government is offering a $5,000 reward for information leading to their capture.

Next to Hoover's list is Irving Charles Chapman, 39, "one of the most clever and dangerous bank robbers in the country." Chapman escaped from the Eastham, Tex., prison farm while serving 25 years on a kidnaping case. The break was led by the notorious Roy (Pete) Traxler, who was wounded and captured a few days later by Frank Denton, Oklahoma oilfield pumper whom he had kidnaped.

The fourth "public enemy" is Maurice Denning, 30, wanted in Iowa for robbery of the First National Bank at Hawarden, of $1,113. He is also wanted in other robberies, Hoover said.

Arnold Thomas Kyle, 28, and his brother-in-law, Joseph Paul Cretzer, 28, complete the list.

According to the bureau of investigation director, they are wanted in connection with robberies in Oregon, Nevada and California. They once lived "in luxury" as "honest business men" in Los Angeles, Hoover said. Seven bankrobberies have been traced to Cretzer, and five directly to Kyle, said Hoover.

One or more "unknown identity" criminals still are the object of an intensive search by Hoover's agents. They are the men who kidnaped and murdered young Charles Mattson, son of Dr. W. W. Mattson, of Tacoma, Wash., This kidnaping is the only major abduction case still unsolved.

The initiatory work was put on by the Sacramento officers and drill team.

R. F. Gilbride, past state president, and state Deputy President Gieser of Roseville, were among the speakers of the evening.

A buffet supper and entertainment program closed the emeeting.

Leigh Emmerson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Emmerson, broke his leg while playing at Placerville Grammar School Tuesday. The Emmerson family is certainly coming in for its share of misfortunes and we hope that happier days lie just ahead.

WINTER SPORTS SEASON EARLY

Prospect Of Fair Weekend Promises Another Record Crowd In Snow Area

The promise of continuing fair weather over the week-end holds the prospect of another record crowd of winter sports fans in the American River Canyon, according to Adolph Martin, president of the Placerville Ski Club.

Martin confirmed the suggestion that the winter sports season in the county has been inaugurated earlier this year than in other years and said members of the club feel that more people are being introduced to the sport this year than in any other year, thanks to the combination of favorable weather and good highway conditions.

Encouraged to believe, after the large attendance of last week-end, that winter sports devotees will play in the snow fields above Placerville if they are informed of the snow sport conditions there a sufficient time in advance to permit them to plan for the week-end, officers of the County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday were preparing to issue, in co-operation with the Placerville Ski Club, their regular weekly snow condition bulletin.

This according to Secretary Wallace M. Ripley, takes the form of a telegram to state chamber of commerce officers at San Francisco, reporting snow conditions, which is then released to the Bay District newspapers and radio stations, and the sending of seventy-five post cards to a selected mailing list in the Sacramento Valley and at the Bay district, reporting snow conditions at various elevations and highway conditions.

CORNERSTONE OF NEW CHURCH TO BE LAID ON SUNDAY

Members of the recently organized Diamond Springs Community Church, for which laying of the foundation was started Monday morning of this week, announce plans for laying the cornerstone of the building with appropriate exercises this coming Sunday afternoon.

The church is being erected under the supervision of I. A. Doty on a lot donated for the purpose by County School Superintendent and Mrs. E. J. Fitzgerald.

The cornerstone ceremonies will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and will be conducted by the Rev. John Dunlop. All friends of the church will be welcome to attend.

The erection of the church has started under most favorable auspices and it is hoped that these may continue, with the assistance of valued friends, to the end that an early completion of the building may be reached.

We learn that the Rev. and Mrs. Ford Canfield, of Diamond Springs, are visiting this week at San Francisco.

MODERN KNIGHT

FOREST HEADS WARN OF BLISTER RUST MENACE TO STATE TIMBER

Two of California's leading forest conservationists, S. B. Show, regional forester of the United States Forest Service and W. V. Benedict, senior forester in charge of the California office of Plant Disease Control of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, announced recently that unless immediate concerted action was taken against the menace of blister rust in this state, little hope could be held for the protection of 2 million acres of native sugar pine valued at more than $50,000,000. The foresters' announcement was made after reviewing a study of blister rust disease centers discovered in northern California last summer and fall.

"Blister rust is far more serious than most people realize," Regional Forester Show emphasized. "Every forest-minded citizen must give his support to the control of blister rust if the beautiful sugar pine timber lands of the state are going to be saved from this deadly disease."

About one-quarter of the total sugar pine area in urgent need of control has been given initial protection during the few years in which blister rust control work has been carried on in California as a precautionary measure against the ultimate encroachment of the disease from the centers of heavy infection in Oregon. This work has been conducted at an average cost of $3.23 per acre. Remaining are more than 1,500,000 acres of high quality sugar pine land.

In recent years, however, blister rust has made its entrance into the State and has spread rapidly. Last summer and fall discoveries of the rust in several stages were made in areas as far as 125 miles south of the Oregon line. The presence of the disease in several northern localities of the state indicates that its advances ultimately will be carried the length of the Sierra Nevada. Unless control measures are started at an early date extensive damage to pine timber will occur, federal foresters warn.

Sugar pine is rated high as a forest tree in nearly all the mountainous sections of California especially in the Yosemite and Tahoe regions and throughout other timbers and recreation areas of the national forests and national parks.

GETS WISH — Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, eldest member of Congress, got his wish when he observed his 80th birthday on Jan. 4th. He wanted to live to be 80, thereby bettering the record of "any of the Glass clan."

Roosevelt Invited To Visit San Diego

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Ed V. Isac, D., California, personally invited President Roosevelt to dedicate the $2,000,000 San Diego civic center next summer.

The President promised he would have the proposal in mind when his vacation itinerary is made up and indicated a southwestern tour was his liking, Izac said.

Special Legislative Session Planned

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam has indicated he will call a special session of the state legislature within a month. The session is expected to be called about March 1.

Women Employees Favor Slacks For Office

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Women employes of the unemployment reserves department admitted with a blush today that it was modesty and economy rather than the dictates of fashion which forced them to substitute slacks for skirts as their working garb.

Several hundred girls joined the move to the more masculine attire because constant stooping and stretching in filing individual record cards caused too many runners in their hose and too great a distraction for male employes.

ADELAIDE, (UP)—This city has just established a world record during the past year for low infant mortality. The rate fell to 23 per thousand births as compared with 55 per thousand during the nine preceding years.

TVA MOVES TO ACQUIRE PRIVATE UTILITY HOLDINGS

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The Tennessee valley authority are taking first steps toward acquisition of private utility properties in its operating area, authorizing David E. Lilienthal to open negotiations for possible purchase of physical holdings of private operators.

The move followed by approximately 10 days the suggestion of president Wendel L. Willkie of commonwealth and southern corporation that the government purchase in entirety its properties facing competition from the federal "yard-stock" project. Commonwealth and southern valued its holdings in the TVA area at approximately $645,000,000.

Republican Want Ads Always Pay.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, (UP) — I am leaving Hollywood in a few days after a two months stay, and if I knew of a town whose inhabitants all were homely, too fat or too thin, and wore ill-fitting garments, I would go to that town and stay at least a month.

Such an unattractive municipality is just the antidote I need after having surrounded by so much beauty, good looks, and high powered tailoring for so long. Hollywood has given me such an inferiority complex regarding the way I look and the clothes I wear that if I don't do something about it soon even Dale Carnegie himself won't be able to help me.

Mind you, I didn't come to Hollywood believing I looked like a collar ad—even a celluloid collar ad. On the other hand, I didn't know I resembled something the cat had planned to drag in and then thought better off after one good look. But since arriving here that knowledge has been forced upon me time and time again.

Take my arrival on the first tee at the Lakeside Golf Course the other day for example. Knowing that many movie stars were members of Lakeside, and that they would be playing in the same tournament, I paid special attention to my looks when I dressed that morning. I parted my hair a new way and rivited it down with stickum. I put on the pants to my best suit, golf or no golf, and a brand new shirt in which I wore my mother-of-pearl dress shirt cuff links.

I topped off my ensemble with a sweater and tie that almost matched.

When I surveyed myself in the mirror I was completely satisfied. I knew that there would be movie actors in the tournament who would be better looking than I, by far. But I felt that none would be better dressed.

However, when I walked on the first tee my jaunty step became a stumble and all my illusions of grandeur were shattered. Because there stood Adolphe Menjou. There are no tailors in my family, and haven't been for generations, but I instinctively knew that Menjou's outfit wouldn't room in the same clothes closet with the get-up I had on.

One look at him and I felt as a cactus plant must feel when planted next to a poinsettia in full bloom.

Then Johnny Weissmuller, playing without a shirt, strolled up. I never felt fatter and more deformed in my life. The next arrival was Dick Arlen and his outfit yielded nothing to Menjou's.

The same thing happens to me at the race track.

I get all primed up and feel fairly dashing until I find myself leaning against the rail and talking to Jon Hall, Edmund Lowe and Cary Grant. My profile seems to recede, I can feel my freckles enlarging, and my Nos. 1 and 2 chins bobbing in the breeze.

There's a moral to this stor, and this is it: If you're satisfied with the way you look, stay away from Hollywood. It's better to be Beau Brummel in your own home town than a wart hog in Hollywood.

ZOO IS GUARDED

LONDON, (UP) — Men armed with sticks, rattles and clappers are patrolling the 600-acre zoo at Whipsnade scaring away flocks of starling, crows, or any birds which show an inclination to rest in the grounds. This is one of the precautions being taken to prevent the zoo's animals from being attacked by hoof-and-mouth disease.

C. C. Herbert, forest road superintendent, was in the Mosquito section on Wednesday.

GIRL, 24, POSTMISTRESS AT OHIO LAKESHORE COMMUNITY

KELLEY ISLAND, O. (UP)—The postoffice at this Lake Erie village claims dsitinction on two counts.

First, and foremost, is its postmaster, pretty 24-year-old Virginia Lange. Miss Lange succeeded her father, Frank Lange, who had served as postmaster from 1935 until his death last January.

Her appointment confirmed by the senate, Miss Lange set about bringing modern, efficient methods to the postoffice. She says she's out to prove she "can run the job to perfection." Admitting she is no politician, Miss Lange says that she expects to clinch her right to the job solely by application of good business methods.

A native of Kellys Island, she was educated at St. Joseph's college in Adrian, Mich., and at a Cleveland business school.

Kelley's Island, with a population of about 700 persons, is a point on one of the shortest air mail routes in the country. Mail is delivered and collected twice a day. Citizens recall the days when winter virtually isolated the island and mail service was as uncertain as the weather. Winter-time carriers often "mushed" across miles of ice to reach the island.

Mail delivery methods changed with time. Milton Hersberger, Put-in-Bay-Kelleys Island airman, now holds a contract for the mail deliveries and flys through "rain or shine."

BRITISH RAILROADS TO SPEND MILLIONS ON SAFETY

LONDON, (UP)—Great Britain's railways, among the world's safest, are to be made still safer during 1938.

"The Big Four"—London Midland and Scottish, London North Eastern, Great Western and Southern companies—are planning to spend millions in installation and effective operation of new devices for signaling and train control.

Included in the ambitious scheme of improvement and development are automatic train control, three-color light signals, illuminated track signals, power signaling, area control offices, and message-recording apparatus.

Druids Initiated Three At Meeting Tuesday

Members of California Grove No. 1, Druids, initiated three candidates at their regular meeting on Tuesday night. A distinguished visitor was Fred Peaslock, special deputy grand noble arch. Preparations are being made for another initiation two weeks hence. The meeting closed with refreshments and a social time. We are glad to see the Number One Grove of Druids in California increasing its membership.

ROOSEVELT TO ASK FUNDS FOR MILITARY "MATERIALS"

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The purpose of President Roosevelt's special message to congress asking supplemental national defense funds is to make the United States impregnable to foreign invasion, administration officials asserted today.

In addition to an expected request for funds to start construction of two additional battleships, two or more fast scout cruisers and other surface naval vessels, the message will ask for appropriations to remedy what both army and navy officials regard as the present alarming shortage of ammunition, ammunition making machinery, anti-aircraft guns, searchlights, fire control machinery, and other equipment which the military men call "material," officials said.

The message is expected to go to congress about the end of this week. The amount it will ask still is uncertain.

MISSIONARY SERIES OF SERVICES UNDER WAY AT CHURCH

The El Dorado County Federated Church held its first School of Missions program last Sunday night. Mrs. Martin Luther was the leader and Rev. Ford Canfield the special speaker. The theme of the service was: "Why Missions?" and was general in nature. Six of these programs are to be presented at the Sunday evening services of the church at 7:30 p. m.

The programs are arranged by the Methodist Women's Home Missionary and the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Societies of the church. Each society has selected three of its members to serve as leaders and to arrange a program for an evening. Missionary work both at home and abroad will be presented.

The next service will be held Sunday evening February 6, at which time Rev. Donald Reasoner, missionary from Brazil, and a brother of Mrs. Stella Winn, will be the speaker. Other speakers to follow will be Mrs. Canfield, formerly of China, Rev. John Dunlop, who is well acquainted with Filipino work both in the missions here in America and abroad, and Rev. Ben Stead, who has served as Sunday School missionary work in this district and is well known by many of the older residents. During the course there will also be a presentation of El Dorado county as a missionary field for the expansion of Christian work.

The El Dorado County Federated Church has assumed the responsibility of extending its program as far as possible throughout the county, and supporting missionary work under the direction of both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Satarina Berryessa, Aged 103, Passes

SANTA RITA (UP)—Funeral arrangements were made today for Mrs. Catarina Roderiguez Berryessa, a member of an early Spanish-California family, who died one month before her 104th birthday.

Mrs. Baryessa was related to the most prominent families of old California. She was a niece of General Jose Castro, one time Governor of California. During her young womanhood, her home was a center of the social, governmental and military life of Spanish California.

She was born in Villa Branciforte, now the city of Santa Cruz, in 1834. She was the daughter of Francisco Rodriquez, Alcalde of Branciforte and Grandee of the Rancho Arroyo Del Rodeo. When she was 14 she married Fernando Berryessa, wealthy Pajaro Valley rancher. Berryessa was killed in a pistol duel in the late 70's when he engaged in an argument over a horse race.

"It's nothing contagious," Bob Norrish explained Wednesday when we asked whether he had measles, chicken pox or small pox.

"It looks better now," he declared.

"I was trying to get a shell out of an old rifle at the Sportsman's Shop Saturday afternoon when the thing blew up and I got a few bad cuts and some powder burns."

Dr. D. W. Babcock gave first aid treatment and Bob hasn't got small pox, despite the appearance.

"Gold" Report Stirs Hawaii

Ore Assaying $1,000 Per Ton Claimed To Have Been Found By Recent Arrivel There

HONOLULU, (IP)—Hawaii is enjoying all of the thrills of a gold rush with the exception of the actual rush itself.

The only reason why the rush has not yet occurred is that complete secrecy has been maintained as to the whereabouts of the announced discovery of gold.

Gold-bearing ore assaying about $1,000 a ton is reported to have been discovered near here by David Walden, a recent arrival from Cambridge, Mass.

Walden has so far refused to divulge any information relative to the whereabouts of his announced find except that it is on the southeastern section of the Island of Oahu and within a short distance of the shore line. He asserts that his sample, which was assayed here, was chipped from a large, rocky island formation.

Pending further developments relative to the so-called discovery, scientific opinion in the islands has been thrown into a turmoil of opinions as to whether such a find here is possible. While most of the authorities are against a possibility, a few are not so certain and no one will deny absolutely that it has not taken place and is not possible.
